St. Michael's Church in peaceful Kirkby Thore

The village of Kirkby Thore is relatively undisturbed by tourist pressures, yet is just 25 minutes drive from Ullswater in the Lake District, and a little further to all the other Lake District attractions.

The shop/Post Office (hot snacks) is 40yds away. Fast food outlets in Appleby will deliver to the village. There are attractive pubs nearby.

For walkers and cyclists there are many enjoyable routes close to the village, and for gardeners a trip to the nearby National Trust property Acorn Bank is a must!

Just four miles away is the delightful market town of Appleby in Westmorland, famous for its traditional horse fair held annually in June. Beyond Appleby is Kirkby Stephen and the high Yorkshire Dales.

The historic City of Carlisle with its Cathedral, Castle and shopping centre is about half an hour's drive away, and Hadrian's Wall Country is closeby.

Appleby is a good place to join the Settle and Carlisle Railway for the picturesque journey to Settle and back.

Or you can take a leisurely drive over the Hartside Pass from Penrith to Hexham, which is designated as one of the most beautiful routes in Europe.
